Vladivostok Squadron Again Seen in the Steamer Track Off Yokohama—Red Sea Cruisers Will Seize No More Merchantmen—Germany Resentful.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLEGRAMS.)

TOKIO, July 24.—The Vladivostok squadron has been sighted sixty miles off Izu.

Izu is a province of Japan which comprises a peninsula, the eastern shore of which is on Sagami Sea. Tokyo bay, on which is located Yokohama, opens off to the northward and vessels entering Yokohama must go by way of Sagami Sea. The southernmost point of Izu peninsula is but fifty miles from Yokohama. The distance is also about fifty miles from the end of Izu peninsula, across Sagami Sea, to the land on the eastern side. To the south of Sagami Sea there are a large number of small islands. This locates the Vladivostok squadron right in the path of vessels entering Yokohama from the Pacific coast of the United States or from Australia or any points to the southward, and if the vessels were moved in closer to land they would blockade Yokohama.

A RUSSIAN WRITER INDICTS THE CZAR

NEW YORK, July 13.—A cable to the Sun from London says: A remarkable article in the Quarterly Review entitled "The Czar" attracts much attention owing to the high standing of the magazine. The editor announced it was written by a Russian official of high rank. The author indicts the Czar as being personally responsible for the Japanese war and for the general state of Russia, contending that the idea that Nicholas is a puppet in the hands of a bureaucracy.

He declares that since his majesty was hypnotized by Pobiedonostzeff, procurator of the holy synod, he imagines himself to be a Slav Messiah. He is filled with a spirit of self-exaltation and regards himself, as the center of the world, the peacemaker of mankind and the torchbearer of civilization to the yellow and other barbarous races. He meddles continuously and directly in every state affair, domestic and foreign, thwarting the course of justice and impoverishing his subjects. He boasts of a fervent love of peace, yet has plunged the tax-burdened people into the horrors of a sanguinary and needless war.

Self-complacent and fickle, he changes favorites in fitful moods, insists upon having his way and dismisses any Minister opposing him. It was because M. Witte reminded him of his promise to evacuate Manchuria that he was dismissed. Other Ministers implored him to evacuate Manchuria to preserve the peace of the world, but he replied: "I shall keep the peace and my own counsel, too."

When a Grand Duke hinted at the possibility of war he replied: "Leave that to me, Japan will never fight. My reign shall be an era of peace."

The writer avows himself to be a monarchist, opposed to nihilism, socialism and all revolutionary tendencies.

A HERRESHOFF TORPEDO BOAT

NEW YORK, July 15.—Surpassing mine, torpedo, submarine and giant projectile in destructive power, it is asserted, a new engine for dealing wholesale death in naval warfare is under construction in miniature in this city. This newest contrivance for the destruction of battle-ships and cruisers is nothing more nor less than a high-speed torpedo boat, which is itself a torpedo, the bow being filled with high explosives in quantities sufficient to blow the bottom out of the biggest war ship afloat. It is planned that the torpedo boat, in the destruction of hostile craft against which its deadly prow is directed, also shall immolate itself. At no time, however, can the loss to the attacking force be greater than two men, and those two will have a fighting chance to escape.

When the torpedo boat, which is a torpedo, has dashed to a point near enough to its steel-clad prey to give assurance that it cannot possibly miss the mark the crew of two brave men will lock the steering gear and, with life belts about them, leap overboard, leaving the death-dealing engine of war to rush in alone at a terrific speed and blow itself and the ship of the enemy to fragments.

Francis Herreshoff, a nephew of Captain Nat Herreshoff, the celebrated builder of the defenders of the American cup, is the inventor of this new annihilator. He contends that by the use of human directing agency up to a point within a few hundred feet of the enemy's ship the uncertainty that attends the use of a torpedo will be done away with and naval warfare will have to be conducted on new lines.

The boat will be made of aluminum and built in sections, so several of them may be carried on any large war ship, ready for use in time of emergency. It will require only a little while to bolt together and send it dashing toward an enemy. The boats will be equipped with electric motors and other mechanical appliances which will give to them a maximum speed between twenty and thirty knots. There will be no smoke to call attention to them. The automobile principle of locomotion will be applied.

LIVE CORALS AT AQUARIUM

Dr. Duerden has completed the exhibit of living coral at the Aquarium and it will be thrown open to the public for the first time today. The collection is located in a tank at the southern end of the building where it was viewed by an Advertiser man last night. There are at least a hundred specimens of over twenty different varieties and they form a most interesting display. By careful observation one may distinguish the actual coral animals or polyps from the skeleton which is commonly known as coral. The numerous curious forms which the various species of coral take are most interesting while the delicate tints are worth study.

These colors are most beautiful. The predominating one is brown, the shades running from the most delicate tints to a deep strong color. Then there are beautiful yellows and lilacs and purples—bits of the wonderful animal flora of the fairyland of the ocean depths. Although these are interesting points perhaps the most noteworthy thing about the exhibit is that it is probably the only one in existence, as the polyps do not thrive well in captivity on account of the sediment which falls on them in the water. An attempt will be made to maintain the exhibit although it is doubtful whether it will last long.

Earthquake Shock.

An earthquake shock visited the city yesterday morning at about 11:59 1-2 o'clock. It was noticeable especially in the suburbs where houses were shaken and dishes rattled. Few people down town felt the shock. The quake came and went with a jolt.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF A JAPANESE LAND VICTORY

Washington, 23 July, 1904.
(Received at 3:15 p. m.)

To Japanese Consul, Honolulu:

General Kuroki reports as follows:

"On July 18th one column of our army commenced an operation for occupying Hsihoyeng (a place on Liaoyang road and to the north of Lienshankwan), where the enemy constructed strong defence works on eminences, commanding the defile and eastward slopes. Columns of the main force advanced in front of the enemy's position and commenced cannonading at dawn of the 19th of July. The enemy replied to our fire with thirty-two field guns. Meanwhile one of our detachments which was crossing a mountain pass menaced the enemy's right flank. The enemy offered a stubborn resistance to us and a sanguinary fight ensued. At 3:39 p. m. our main force penetrated the enemy's position on heights to the northwest of Hsihoyeng while the detachment facing the enemy's right cut the enemy's retreat.

At 8 p. m. Hsihoyeng and positions in its neighborhood fell into our hands. The main force of enemy fled in confusion toward Anping. Our casualties were seventy-two killed, including two officers, and 452 wounded, including sixteen officers. The enemy left on the field 131 corpses and his total casualties were estimated to be over 1000. The enemy that took part in this engagement consisted of the 34th and the 36th Infantry Regiments and one Cossack Regiment with thirty-two field guns."

He is the father of the King of Greece and also of Queen Alexandra of England. He is the father-in-law of the Czar and thus grandpa to a host of prospective kings and queens.

HAYS PUTS UP A FIGHT

Three Documents Filed Against Injunction Proceedings.

T. A. Hays, representative of the Pacific Hardware and Steel Co., by his attorneys, Castle & Withington, has filed a demurrer, an answer and a motion to dissolve the temporary injunction in the suit of the Territory of Hawaii to enjoin that corporation and himself from doing business in the Territory.

The demurrer states that the plaintiff has not stated a cause to entitle it to relief, and not shown that it has any right or interest in the subject matter as would entitle it to the relief prayed.

In the answer it is denied that the corporation exists under the laws of California, and alleged that it is a New Jersey incorporation. It is claimed that the corporation does business in this Territory altogether as a part of the foreign or interstate commerce of the United States. Also it is declared that the corporation's business here is and has always been an order business—that is to say, "this respondent is an employee and is not an officer of said corporation and as such employee is authorized to accept orders for goods, which orders are transmitted by him to the office in San Francisco and goods are shipped from the State of California or some other state of the Union to the persons giving said orders in the Territory of Hawaii, and that no other or further business is being done by said respondent, the Pacific Hardware and Steel Company, within the Territory of Hawaii," etc. Further, he admits that, as an employee but not as an officer of the corporation, he has maintained an office for his personal use, but not for the use of any officer or stockholder or to carry on any business of said corporation other than as specifically named by him. He "denies that the said corporation is obliged by law to do any of the acts set forth which it is claimed he has failed and neglected to do in said bill." Wherefore he prays that the injunction be denied and the preliminary injunction be dissolved.

The motion to dissolve the temporary injunction, the hearing of which Judge Gear has set for Monday at 12 o'clock noon, is based on the following grounds: "First: That said injunction had been improvidently granted through mistake of misapprehension of the court and without notice to this respondent. "Second: That no bond has been given in said action and that no bond is required in a case of this kind, and the Act being new and never having been misconstrued, as a matter of discretion, a preliminary injunction should not be granted and the injunction already granted should be dissolved. "Third: That the bill filed in this case does not show any authority for the issuance of said writ and does show a want of equity on which to grant it. "Fourth: That the answer denies all of the alleged equities in the bill and under the circumstances of the case the preliminary injunction should be dissolved."

KAMEHAMEHA GETS A NEW PRINCIPAL

Perley L. Horne will be the new principal of the Kamehameha Schools. A cablegram was received from him Friday accepting the position offered to him and he will arrive the third week in August to assume his duties. The new principal is of Massachusetts' stock although he was brought up in Kansas. He took his degree at Harvard, being registered from Ocean-side, San Diego County, California, where his parents were then residing. He graduated from college in 1893 being a classmate of S. M. Ballou and Eric A. Knudsen of this city. He taught in Indiana and then became principal of Dummer Academy at Byfield, Mass., the oldest academy in America, founded in 1763. This position he has filled successfully for the past eight years. Mr. Horne is most highly recommended by the authorities at Harvard.

BOY HURT IN MERRY-GO-ROUND

An eight-year old Hawaiian boy last night sustained a bad injury to his left leg below the knee while attempting to jump from the Merry-go-round while it was in motion. The boy was barefooted at the time. His leg caught in the cable which leads from the engine to the wheels beneath the revolving structure. The little fellow screamed and the machinery was stopped. It was found that his leg had been terribly cut along the line of the shin bone. He was carried to Benson, Smith's drug store and later to the Queen's Hospital.

ALL QUIET AT WAIPAHU

Plantation Will Not Yield to the Strikers.

A committee of the Waipahu plantation strikers came to Honolulu yesterday afternoon and held a conference with Consul Miki Saito. This was the result of a big meeting yesterday forenoon at which time it was decided to come to town and discuss the matter. Manager Ahrens also decided upon one important move and this was to pay off a large number of the strikers. This was done in the afternoon and quite a delegation came to Honolulu. It is understood that other plantations will not employ these men at the present time.

The plantation was quiet all day, the strikers making no demonstration whatever, and the relations between the management and the laborers were amicable to a certain degree. The police force sent to Waipahu from Honolulu on Friday remained there all day yesterday under command of Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth and Lieut. Leslie. The police were exceptionally well cared for by the management. 12:30 o'clock last night a message was received from Waipahu that everything was quiet, though some Japanese were hanging about the headquarters.
